

Lydia Dorr

1012 Canyon Ridge Rd Blacksburg, VA 24060

lydiadorr@vt.edu - 210.716.7292

EDUCATION

Case Western Reserve University - Cleveland, OH

May 2024

B.A. Psychology and Cognitive Science

Minor: Spanish

Cumulative GPA: 4.0

Senior Capstone: The Effect of Theory of Mind Deficits on Judgments of Accidental and Intentional Moral Transgressions

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

LAB MANAGER AND RESEARCH ASSISTANT

2024-Present

Mental State Processing and Psychopathology Lab, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

PI: Prof. Chloe Hudson

- Mentored junior colleagues
- Designed laboratory website
- Learned and implemented scoring system for Cooperative Interaction Task

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT

2022-2024

Clinical Neuroscience Lab, Case Western Reserve University

PI: Prof. Sarah Hope Lincoln

- Co-designed study on adolescents' theory of mind and co-authored corresponding IRB
- Learned and implemented scoring system for Level of Emotional Awareness Scale (LEAS) and Spontaneous Theory of Mind Protocol (STOMP)
- Conducted literature searches for measures of psychosis to assist in development of a self-report state psychosis questionnaire
- Identified speakers and target audiences for DEI seminar series
- Designed and ran a novel independent research study exploring the effect of theory of mind deficits on moral judgments in individuals with schizophrenia spectrum disorders

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH ASSISTANT

2021-2022

Neurodevelopment Research Lab, Case Western Reserve University

PI: Prof. Anastasia Dimitropoulos

- Reconciled computer-generated transcript of study interventions

- Assisted with coding data from pretend play intervention
- Trained new research assistants on reconciliation task

HONOR AND AWARDS

- Deans High Honors List 2020-Present
- University Scholarship 2020-Present

SKILLS

Survey Software
Design

Qualtrics
Adobe Illustrator